Blood Moon's
Hollywood Remembered
Glitz, Glamour, Triumph, & Tragedy

*How Blood Moon Productions captured the attention of
The American Tabloids during the decline of
The Entertainment Industry's Golden Age*

Blood Moon Productions (www.BloodMoonProductions.com) proudly announces the release of Hollywood Remembered, a 450-page compendium of "short stories" inspired by Darwin Porter's long exposure to the backlot intrigues of the entertainment industry's "Hollywood Heyday."

It's envisioned as an oversized coffee table book of enduring interest to anyone who ever loved classic films and the scandalous intrigues associated with its players. It's not for the timid. Pages are splashed with incisive commentary and photographs of a fabulous era swept away by changing times.

Its inspiration derived from twenty years of Darwin Porter's monthly contributions to Boomer Times, a glossy magazine and "Sunday supplement" of The Miami Herald's subscribers in Dade and Broward Counties, Florida. It was spearheaded by Anita Finley, a South Florida gerontologist who doubled as a spokesperson for her state's "politically connected" population of Baby Boomers.

According to Blood Moon's president, Danforth Prince, "The core values of Anita Finley and Darwin Porter—who define Baby Boomers as "Old-Time Hollywood's Greatest Fans"—always dovetailed neatly. This book is envisioned as a joint celebration of the staggering literary output of both Boomer Times and Blood Moon Productions. As such, we've dedicated it to Ms. Finley. The Grande Dame of Florida's Boomers.

"We also envision this as an autobiography of Blood Moon Productions and an end-of-life tribute to its creative director, Darwin Porter. If not for his archival skills, many once-underground truths about The American Century would have died with their last first-hand witnesses. But thanks in part to Porter's staggering descriptive output, thousands of once-repressed facts have been recorded and digitalized for future historians and fans. In fact, for the Library Trades, we've categorized this one-of-a-kind new book as a resource for MEDIA STUDIES.

"With a release expected on that Greatest of American Holidays, The 4th of July, Blood Moon's HOLLYWOOD REMEMBERED will challenge traditional beliefs about celebrities and the sociologies that nurtured them. "

With a special tribute to the celebrities whose luminous images still enthrall us on movie screens today, thanks for taking a look at this portrait of the ferociously unfettered "indie" that briefly reigned as a magnet for tabloid publicists, and as one of the hottest independent publishing ventures in the world.
